Community Education Update:
Ashley Forbes of Community Education shared plans to host an after-school pilot program for students at Dishman-McGinnis at no or low cost, based on a sliding household income scale. Fifty students will be accepted to attend the new income-based after-school program at the beginning of the 2014-15 school year.

Revision of School Board Policies:
Several Policies were revised based on recommendations by the Kentucky School Board Association’s annual update, and based on changes to education law in the state legislature. District administrators will review revisions with school principals and individuals impacted by changes in policies. All changes are available for review at the district office.

Approved Contract for Non-Resident Pupils
The Bowling Green Board of Education approved an “any and all” non-resident contract with Warren County Schools allowing state funding to follow resident students of BGISD to attend Warren County Schools. Two similar long-term contracts were approved by Bowling Green’s Board as part of non-resident negotiations in December 2013, and February 2014, but were not approved by the Warren County Board of Education. The contract regarding BGISD residents attending Warren County Schools was also not addressed in the Commissioner of Education’s non-resident ruling regarding the 2014-15 school year. Therefore, to allow state funding to follow Bowling Green resident students to Warren County Schools for education services, Bowling Green’s Board of Education approved an “any and all” non-resident contract with Warren County Schools for the upcoming school year.

Approved Donation from Pfizer Foundation
The BGISD Board of Education officially accepted a $1,000 donation from the Pfizer Foundation to support the Bowling Green Junior High boy’s basketball team. The donation was made as part of the Pfizer volunteer and employee matching gifts program.
